WAIVED EXAMINATION

liminary Hearing.

Failed to Give a $500 Bond and Went Back to Jail.

The trial of Will Cooper, the youth who was arrested last week in Fulton for robbing the Fulton Leader mail box, was not held this morning as he waived examination and was held over to the federal court under a $500 bond which he failed to give.

Cooper is only 17 years of age, and was formerly employed as a collector of the Leader, but several weeks ago was discharged by his employers who questioned his honesty. He learned the combination of the mail box while working for the Leader and from time to time had been taking letters from it and in this way securing checks, stamps, etc. He will be tried before Judge Evans next week at the regular term of federal court. Commissioner Gardner being absent from the city, Cooper was taken before County Judge R. T. Lightfoot and in that court waived examination. Deputy U. S. Marshal Saunders brought up several witnesses from Fulton today.

READY FOR THE JURY

New York, Nov. 11-Assisant Distriot Attorney Osborne finished his address to the jury in the Molineux trial at 12:15 p. m. today and the court ordered a recess until 1:15 when Justice Lambert will charge the jury.

ARGUMENTS BEGIN.

A $100 SUIT TAKES UP ABOUT NINE DAYS' TIME.

This morning the evidence in the case of Norman, Myles and Co. against T. Herndon and others was finished after more than a week's investigation, and the lawyers began to argue shortly before noon.

The case was begun last Saturday a week ago and the first witness was kept on the stand for more than four an alleged $1,000 advance on tobacco purchases made some time ago, the plaintiffs claiming that the defendants, their agents here, did not ship as much tobacco as was paid for in The case will probably be given to the jury this afternoon.

ELECTION

Today at the Court House.

Will Probably Finish the Count Today and Issue Certicates Later.

Election Commissioners Dorian, county court house this morning and EAST RIVER BRIDGE ON FIRE. resumed the count of the vote of Mc-Cracken county. Mr. Joe Randalli, NEW STRUCTURE CONNECTING who was absent yesterday, was again present, and it is throught that the canvas will be completed by adjovrnment this afternoon, but the certificates will not be issued until later, perhaps Thursday. Mr Randall leaves again tonight and will return Thursday and will then take up the work agair and certificates will be awarded.

About the only change thus far is in the fact that all the candidates will receive from three to half a dozen or more votes than given them in the published reports, owing to the fact that the commissioners have counted a number of ballots that the election officers rejected.

Discussed at Length.

proaching Session of Congress Probable.

Roosevelt will devote considerable part tically completed, to the discussion of the trusts. The president is of the opinion that the tariff is a subject closely related to the trusts and he wiil discuss the two subjects as so related in his message

The president holds advanced views both on the regulation of the trusts both of these subjects he is opposed by the leading men of his party in the house and senate, but that fact will not prevent him from laying his views before congress, and leaving the responsibility for non-action on the party leaders. He acted precisely in that way on the Cuban reciprocity agitation.

Babcock, Overstreet, Foraker, Payne and a host of other have a lready notino important history-making legislation at the next session of congress. Senator Spooner and Senator Platt saw the president tonight, and it is believed they also urged non-action.

The president in the opinion of many, however, is committed to legislation on the trusts. His general ideas are these:

First-That the affairs of the trusts should be open to public inspection. This is the much vaunted publicity feature as a cure for trust evils Second-A constitutional amendment which will give the state ample authority in conjunction with federal aid, to break up all oppressive

Third-The revision of the antitrust law in such manner as will make Valley; J. D. Sturdivant, Vicksburg it impossible for defendant trusts to escape on technicalities.

Fourth-The revision of the tariff to such a degree that it will be a whip over the most oppressive trusts.

This last will be the most drastic ecommendation of the president, and to Mr. Wallace, and C. L. Campbell, it is obviously the one which leaders in congress have determined to oppose with all their power at the coming session of congress, and during the COMMISSIONERS Fifty-eighth congress. It is known that the president is anxiously awaiting the report of the anthracite coal imission, which is dealing with They Resume Counting the Vote one, and a most important trust. He has asked for all the light possible, and he will send it to congress.

> The outcome of the next session, so far as the president's message is concerned, will be that the Republican leaders will, if they do anything, lay great stress on the congressional amendment suggestion of the presi-

BROOKLYN AND NEW YORK SUSTAINS HEAVY DAMAGE.

New York, Nov. 11-The new east river bridge in process of construction between New York and Brooklyn, was damaged to the amount of at least $500,000 last night by a fire that for four hours raged 355 feet in the air, on the summit of the great steel tower on the New York side. Three men who were at work on the top of the tower when the fire broke out are reported to have fallen into the river.
